

In the light of the Climate Crisis and this government's stated and legally binding commitment to the Paris accord and to ZERO carbon by 2035 there are NO morally or ethically acceptable arguments for expansion.

Any economic arguments are based on greed, not need and show wilful, culpable ignorance of the climate reality we face.

Renee Slater